

Join us at the Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) Learning Collaborative

Learn how to provide evidence-based, high-quality treatment for opioid use disorder (OUD) in a variety of clinical settings. The collaboration combines continuing education, consultation, and clinical support from content experts throughout five, monthly sessions. To learn more, visit www.statenislandpps.org/mat-learning-collaborative.

CMEs/CEUs available. Light refreshments will be served. Travel reimbursement available.

To join as a new participant, RSVP at www.surveymonkey.com/r/WHXJF79.

SESSION 2: Screenings, Assessment, and Admission Requirements

MARCH 18, 2019

4:00 - 6:00 PM

Regina McGinn, MD Medical Education Center
475 Seaview Avenue, Staten Island, NY 10305

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Gain an understanding of tools/scales for screening and assessing OUD
- Gain an understanding of regulatory requirements for admission including toxicology screenings
- Gain an understanding of best practices for conducting screenings and assessments in various settings particularly primary care and EDs

To learn more about the MAT Learning Collaborative or to review session one activities and resources, visit www.statenislandpps.org/mat-learning-collaborative.

Accreditation

Accreditation Staten Island University Hospital is accredited by the Medical Society of the State of New York (MSSNY) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Staten Island University Hospital designates this live activity for a maximum of 2 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Policy

Policies and standards of the Medical Society of the State of New York and the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education require that speakers and planners for continuing medical education activities disclose any relevant financial relationships they may have with commercial interests whose products, devices or services may be discussed in the content of a CME Activity.

The planners and faculty participants do not have any relevant financial relationships to disclose.

No commercial support was received for this activity.